Mossadegh Ousted

LONDON—Radio Tehran announced today the overthrow of Premier Mossadegh's 27-month old, Red-backed government by the army, police and royalists who fought their foes for hours in the streets of Tehran.

Young Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi was summoned home from Rome where he had fled with his beautiful Queen Soraya after his attempt to dismiss Mossadegh on Sunday failed.

The Tehran announcer said Mossadegh "escaped" the fury of the angry royalist mobs, who burned and sacked strongholds of their political foes, but his foreign minister, Hussein Fattahi, was "torn to pieces," the radio said.

Gen. Zafarollah Zahedi, who was named premier by the Shah and went into hiding when Mossadegh assumed virtually absolute powers three days ago, was proclaimed the legal head of the government, according to the Tehran announcer.

The Tehran announcer said in addition to the radio station, key government buildings were seized in the counter-revolt.

Adonis Confident

ROSELAND, N. J. — Harold J. Adonis, free in a total of $30,000 bail at his Roseland home, was confident today he would be acquitted on bribery and income tax evasion charges. The former executive clerk in Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll's office was arrested yesterday when he alighted from the liner Veendam in Hoboken. He was released later in bail.

Contractor Gets Go-Ahead Order On Pike Section

C. J. Langenfelder, Inc., Baltimore (Md.) contractors, have received the official order to proceed on the construction of the section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike assigned to it, it was announced yesterday by John A. Betz, spokesman for the Bristol office of the commission.

Betz said the order was issued by the Harrisburg office of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission on Monday.

The Langenfelder firm will be responsible for constructing, that part of the turnpike in Bucks County which will run from Neshaminy Creek to Route 13 at Edgely.

At the moment workmen are occupied with clearing trees and underbrush from the course of the superhighway.

Work on the remainder of the turnpike running through Bucks County is under the direction of the James Morrissey Co. of Philadelphia. Betz said yesterday Morrissey had completed 30 per cent of its portion of the project and was now generally engaged in grading and leveling operations.

Both firms are committed to a completion date in August, 1954.

Courier's New Press Arrives From Chicago

Arrival Times With Finishing Of Foundations

The first shipment of the long-awaited new high-speed press for The Courier arrived by tractor-trailers this morning from Chicago, the initial step in transforming the operations at the daily newspaper into a modern, efficient mechanical process. Two more shipments are on their way.

The 24-page Goss Dek-A-Tube press arrived at 8:30 a. m., with the heavy machinery carefully packed in heavy wooden boxes. These were removed to the basement where the press will be assembled by expert craftsmen. It is expected to be in operation in four to six weeks, and will permit The Courier to print a 24-page paper in one operation, running off up to 22,000 complete newspapers in an hour.

The arrival of the press equipment was timed to the minute as the Penn Valley Contractors Co., of Morrisville, the firm which has been engaged for seven weeks in placing the concrete foundations for the press, was just giving the finishing touches to their job when the press arrived.

Spring Delayed Work

The foundation, delayed because of three springs gushing forth when excavations were undertaken, consists of a foot of concrete laid to a depth of four feet below the basement surface. The solid foundation is necessary to prevent the least vibration when the large press operates at full speed.

Street Proposal Is Discussed By Taxpayers Group

MORRISVILLE, Aug. 19 — The proposed cutting of Washington street from East Bridge to Main streets, recently urged by borough businessmen, was discussed at a meeting of the Morrisville Taxpayers Association last night, and met with opposition from a member, Edward M. Lampton, of 366 Jefferson avenue.

The merchants recently purchased the old Presbyterian Church on Union street and converted it into offices. Included in the purchase was a parking lot in an open field now accessible only from Union street. The businessmen urged Borough Council to cut the street through, opening the lot from East Bridge, street, and install parking meters on the lot.

They maintain that this would help business activity in the downtown area, and relieve Pennsylvania avenue traffic with a new parallel street.

"The effort to get Council to spend $43,000 is merely an effort by the businessmen to help recover some of the business they are now losing to the new shopping center at Trenton and Pennsylvania avenues," Lampton said. "They are stuck and now trying to get the taxpayers to bail them out."

President John V. Sawyer of 88 Brooks avenue, said he will appoint a committee to study rezoning plans for the borough and report at the September 15 meeting.

Exchange-Rotary Hold Clam Bake

The Bristol Exchange and Rotary clubs held their annual clam bake last evening at the summer cottage of Congressman Karl C. King at Pennsbury with over 70 enjoying the social affair.

Bathing, water-skiing or contented resting in hammocks adjoining the cottage which is located between two lakes, harmony singing, television and just plain men's talk highlighted the program until the rush for clams on the half-shell, sandwiches, and refreshments followed by a chicken and lobster dinner, completely exhausted the service club members and their guests.

Congressman King will be host tonight at a dinner for 75 officers of the various V.F.W. posts of Bucks county.

Crossing Delaware

A GROUP OF BOYS, members of the Little Bigger Baseball League, follow in Washington's footsteps as they cross the Delaware at Washington Crossing Park. Their trip was made in amphibious boats, supplied by the U. S. Army, Fort Dix, N. J., through the courtesy of Major General E. R. Ryan.

Baseball Finalists Span the Delaware In Army Amphibs

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 19 — A group of 75 boys, from eight states, participating in the Little Bigger Baseball World Series, here, yesterday reconstructed Washington's crossing of the Delaware, under slightly different circumstances.

The boys were taken to Washington Crossing Park on the New Jersey side by the Trenton Kiwanis Club, under the supervision of Dr. J. Goodman Gill, vice-president of Rider College.

They crossed the river in Army amphibious vehicles. Howard G. Krupp, chairman of the Washington's Crossing Park Commission and Joseph Titus, director of the park greeted them on the Pennsylvania side.

After returning the boys to New Jersey, one of the vehicles, while en route to Pennsylvania, struck a rock and was stranded for 15 minutes. Six enlisted men were aboard the "duck," which was released by another. The craft were loaned by Maj. Gen. Cornelius E. Ryan.

Two Children Receive Burns

Two children were admitted to Bristol General Hospital, yesterday, for severe burns.

Eugene Charlton, 8, of Ritter avenue, Fergusville, suffered second degree burns of both legs while burning crab grass in the rear of his place, with his brother, Robert, 16. A can of anti-freeze caught fire and exploded during the blaze, igniting Eugene's clothing. He was reported improving today.

Linda Sue Bowker, 2½, of 705 Pond street, was admitted to the hospital for burns of the right arm received when she was scalded by hot tea at her home.

MOTHER, BABY WELL

Mrs. Daniel T. Leary, Jr., Cornwells Heights, and her son, William, born Friday night in Bucks County Rescue Squad building are both doing well. An Abington Hospital official announced that they will be discharged today. William is the Leary's fifth child.

Levitt 'Blameless' In Tullytown Pollution

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 19 — Levittown was held blameless of pollution and flooding of Martin's Creek in Tullytown in a statement made yesterday by a Levitt & Sons spokesman.

"Levittown cannot be held responsible for the flooding of Tullytown," the spokesman said, "because the Levittown area drained is only 14.2 per cent of the drainage basin that empties into the creek."

Meanwhile, Francis Bodine, president of the Tullytown board of health, proposed rerouting Martin's Creek behind Main street to end the flooding of homes in the old part of the Borough. Bodine said he will urge the health board to recommend to Tullytown Borough Council "to have the creek behind these properties moved as far as possible to a new creek bed, wider and deeper, and located in the direction of the Pennsylvania Railroad right of way."

Denies Responsibility

"Levittown is not and cannot under any circumstances be held responsible for pollution of waters, if any pollution exists," the Levitt spokesman said. "Levittown has a sanitary sewerage system. All sewage is collected in pipes and fed to a sewage treatment plant. None of it escapes into the ground or into the waters draining into the area."

Martins Creek, also known as Common Creek, after receiving Levittown storm drainage, flows south under Route 13 and the railroad and behind homes on Main

A hospital spokesman said his condition had improved materially.

New Tullytown Chief Loves Job on Force

TULLYTOWN, Aug. 19 — A man who likes his job, that's John B. Walterick, first full time police chief in Tullytown borough history.

Walterick, who was sworn in as chief, August 13 and who has been on the force a little over a year says, "I always had an idea I'd like police work and to be perfectly honest, I love it."

New Patrol Car

The chief's staff includes three officers. There is one patrol car, so new that it hasn't been lettered yet. The police office is in the basement of the Tullytown Fire Company building, but Walterick predicts that he will do much of the paper work connected with his job, at home.

One of the reasons for this is his wife, Evelyn, will be available to do the necessary typing. Walterick

Mothers Get Support For School Plans

Civic Association Gives Backing To 5-Point Petition

EDGELY, Aug. 19—Speaking for "not only Levittowners, but all mothers in Bristol Township," Mrs. Henry Lotto last night requested and received support of the Levittown Civic Association for a five-point petition directed at the Township School Board.

Making her request at the regular Association meeting here, Mrs. Lotto said that she, as a member of the educational committee, had attended the last meeting of the School Board and "hadn't received concrete answers to the questions brought up there."

"Why we still don't know for sure where our children will attend school this fall," she said.

Meeting Changed

"The time and place of the last board meeting were changed at the last minute, and a report pertaining to school attendance by Levittown children wasn't even brought up until almost midnight. They told us that penalty clauses against the contractor for the John Fitch school were "impossible, and their general opinion seemed to be that nothing could be done."

She said that Walter Miller, of the School Board told her, "You're here tonight, but you won't be here again."

"I think we were just as discouraged as he thought we would be, and I, think, wanted us to be," she said.

Demands Action

The petition demands action from the School Board which would complete the first wing of the John Fitch school "no later than November 15," and asks for kindergartens for September; six-month periods in each semester; the start of a second Levittown school and one of the secondary schools "promptly," and single class sessions by November, 1954.

Attorney Samuel Aronowitz, 6 Learning lane, said, "It's high time people realized that they will never get proper consideration from the School Board unless we hammer and force them into the realization that what was good enough years ago is not good enough now."

"We need kindergartens here now and we need them badly," he said. "Let's go out and get them."

Not a Resident

Aronowitz said he was not a Bristol resident.

Bucks Commission To Meet To Probe Works Assessment

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 19 — "We are going to find out exactly what they think a fair assessment of the Fairless Works should be," said Joseph W. Hallowell, president of the Board of County Commissioners on Monday in reference to the expanded executive meeting to be held tomorrow morning at 10 a. m. by the commissioners.

Invited to attend the meeting are the president and secretary of the Falls Township school district, road supervisors of that district and chief assessor of Bucks County, Elwood A. Britton.

The meeting was seen as providing an opportunity for a growing faction of Falls Township residents under the leadership of James Doheny, secretary of the Falls Township School Board, to submit their dissatisfaction with Fairless assessment figure in detail.

Doheny has called the present $62,137,200 valuation of the U. S. Steel Co. property "ridiculous." He has contended the valuation should, in no case, be less than $76,000,000.

The Falls Township faction claims further that the assessment on which taxes are paid in the case of U. S. Steel in this area should be at least $30,000,000 instead of $18,000,000.

Britton said yesterday, "To assess one industrial plant more than half the entire Bucks County assessment a year ago seems ridiculous to us."

The assessment figure for all Bucks County property last year was $130,000,000.

Sewage Plant Odor Will Be Discussed By Health Board

The Bristol Township Board of Health has not yet had an opportunity to review the recent protest made by the Fergusville Community Center regarding "the offensive odors and noise emanating from" the $1,000,000 sewage disposal plant now more than half completed at the Fergusville site.

Dr. Samuel Katz, secretary of the board, said, however, he expected the group to meet "momentarily" to discuss the matter and said he may have an official statement covering the board's attitude by tomorrow.

The protest, made in the form of a letter to Dr. Katz, and signed by Roy Hansen, secretary of the community center, charged that "residents of this area have noticed these odors at intermittent intervals on certain days, and all day long on other days."

Seek Assurances

Hansen said the center was only 2 1/2 city blocks away from the plant. "In view of our strong protest against the location of the sewage plant when it was first brought to our attention," he continued, "We feel that every effort should be made to compel the responsible authorities to live up to their assurances that there would be no odor or unpleasantness caused by operation of this sewage plant."

The construction of the plant is under the jurisdiction and financing authority of the Falls Township Authority. Official engineer attached to the project is Howard A. LeDan, Harrisburg.

R. Graeme Smith, Philadelphia businessman was the principal speaker at last night's meeting of Bristol Lions Club at Pennsbury Inn. Smith, who has devoted most of his life to the lending of money from large insurance companies to small businesses and farmers, spoke on "Preparation For The Next Recession."

The group was entertained by Luigi Boccelli, Philadelphia, founder of Blind Artists Concerts and Miss Catherine DeRocco, Lebanon, both of whom are blind. Boccelli spoke on the independence of blind artists, through their work.

Clayton Richman, Angelo Rago and Lester Fredericks were guests at the meeting. Walter Rosser acted as chairman.

Club Members To Hear Talk

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 19 — Members of Levittown Garden Club will hear how to start a new lawn in late summer at their meeting tonight, in the Levittown Civic Center, Tullytown road.

William F. Greenawalt, county agent of the Bucks County Agricultural Association will be the speaker. A film, "Life of the Soil," will be shown. Thomas C. Peebles, club president, announced that members might have the use of the club's lawn roller on a four-hour free time basis. An aerator and a seeder are on order, he said. There are 13 Republicans.

Manhattan Soap Talk Washed Out

A conference called by a Federal labor conciliator in New York yesterday between the Manhattan Soap Company management and representatives of Local 373, United Chemical Workers (CIO) proved a dud when the union officials failed to keep their appointment.

Another conference is expected to be scheduled in the near future. The 283 workers at the Radcliffe street, Bristol plant, went on strike July 23 and the plant has been shut down since. The Manhattan Soap Company's other plant in the mid-west is not involved in the strike.

Law Adopted At Secret Session, Sloan Charges

EDGELY, Aug. 19 — Former Levittown Civic Association vice-president, Duke Sloan, last night introduced to that group a motion to establish a malfeasance investigating committee to probe the actions of the Bristol Township Commissioners. The motion was adopted by a large majority.

Sloan, appearing at his first meeting since he lost the presidential race last May, charged that the Commissioners met secretly on July 15 at the Emilie Police station and passed Ordinance No. 32, which accepted streets in five sections of Levittown.

"If the action which they took is proven illegal," said Sloan, "then I recommend that the Association support residents of Bristol Township in bringing any necessary action against the Commissioners."

He was greeted with a burst of applause which quickly spread through the crowd of almost 300.

Motion Passed

His motion was passed after Sloan said that "it was not the action of the Commissioners that mattered, but the way they took the action."

Sloan said that the ordinance itself did not enter into the discussion, and "it would make no difference whether they passed an ordinance regulating cats and dogs. The fact remains that they passed and ordinance at a secret meeting," he charged.

Sloan contended that members of the press were excluded from the meeting even after requesting special permission to attend, and were told that "nothing of importance" was taking place. He said that the reading of the minutes by secretary Elwood Britton disclosed that the ordinance was passed on that night, and at a "special" meeting.

"There was no public notice that the meeting would be held for that purpose," Sloan added.

Probe Sought

His motion was followed by a move from Joseph Landow, 2 Lavender lane, who asked that "steps be taken to ascertain through (Pennsylvania representatives in Congress) just what specifications

Levitt Spokesman Says Shop Center Is Taxed in Full

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 19 — Levitt and Sons is taxed for a full 80 acres in the Levittown shopping center, a spokesman for the builder said yesterday, describing a recent charge by Duke Sloan, as having "absolutely no basis of fact."

Sloan lives at 313 Lakeside drive, and is founder of a Tullytown taxpayers group. This week, on seeing a report from the Bucks County assessor's office listing the shopping center acreage at 60, Sloan commented, "We have reason to believe that there are 20 acres that weren't assessed."

"There is absolutely no basis of fact to this charge," the Levitt spokesman said yesterday. "Levitt and Sons is paying taxes on 80 acres of land in the shopping center area."

"Sloan's charges that we are not paying taxes on all the property in the shopping center are 100 per cent fabrication."

"It is obviously another attempt on the part of this man to create a false impression based on no facts whatsoever. It is amazing that such a charge is given any credence."

Sloan had announced his intention to demand that Tullytown Borough Council hire a surveyor to determine the exact acreage of the shopping center area. In making the charge, Sloan said his group had not been able to obtain information from Mrs. Walter Strouse, borough assessor.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Strouse remarked, "Duke Sloan has never asked me about anything—any figures, acreage or anything else. His estimation of the situation is completely wrong."

weeks ago, LeDan said the plant, which he called "one of the most modern of its kind built in the United States" was especially designed to operate free from odors.

Not Informed
John Collins, chairman of the Falls Township Authority, said yesterday he was unfamiliar with the protest situation except for what he had read about it in the newspapers, and said he had not yet been informed of the protest by any group or agency on an official basis.

There was some speculation though that the questions would come up for an airing at a meeting of the authority which Collins announced for 8 p. m., Wednesday, Aug. 26 at the authority's office in the Fairless Hills shopping center.

Collins said Howard LeDan, consulting engineer on the project, would attend.

Although the authority does not hold regular monthly meetings, Collins said it does convene "periodically" especially when there is "some pending business."

There is one part of his new job that Walterick looks forward to especially, and that's working with children. In fact, Walterick says, "All kids like cops. You drive along in the patrol car or walk along the street and they all wave and call 'hi!'"

Walterick describes his main aim as police chief as, "making an efficient force, capable of handling any situation or emergency that may arise." He feels that in addition to managing and directing the activities of the police force he must "keep abreast of any development in the community and of new methods of fighting and preventing crime."

A Tullytown resident for 12 years, Walterick says, "I've seen more changes in the last year than in the other 11." He finds the rapid growth of Levittown one of the most amazing changes. He looks forward to working with Levittown people. "I find people of Levittown very co-operative. I look for them to take a big interest in community affairs," Walterick says. He will work with Levittown Guard Service in keeping law and order in Levittown.

Lands Commission
Walterick had a good word for Tullytown Borough Council and the Police Committee. He described them as 100 percent co-operative. He also speaks highly of the Civil Service Commission. "They are three very capable men and they have done a fine job in organizing the civil service set-up, from the very beginning," he said.

Walterick was born in Coatesville and moved to the Lower Bucks County area when he was 10. Before joining the police force he was employed by Paterson Parchment Paper Co. During World War II, Walterick served 17 months as an electrician's mate third class in the Navy.

In his spare time, the chief raises collies. At the present time he has 14 of his own dogs in his kennel plus six or eight boarders. He is looking forward to showing them in the spring.

charge of the foundation project, installed a special adjunct to the foundations to provide for any contingency whereby the springs might mount and overflow into the press pit. The additional water outlet can easily be emptied by pumping if necessary.

The Courier, a daily in operation for the past 40 years, purchased the modern press as evidence of its faith in the growing communities of Bristol and the entire Lower Bucks County.

For Half Century
The new equipment, plus many more already installed and more to be added as soon as possible, will give the readers of lower Bucks county the calibre of newspaper service to which they are entitled and is expected to take care of their needs for the next half-century.

Use Old Press
Until the new press is in operation, The Courier will continue to utilize its flat-bed eight-page press, which has rendered daily service for many decades. However, it necessitates two or more "runs" when the daily edition extends over eight pages, and this slows up deliveries. The speed of the new equipment will run-off three times as many pages in any edition of The Courier in faster time than the flat-bed press operated in printing an eight-page paper.

the FHA approved for streets, curbing and sidewalks in Levittown."

The motion instructs the Civic Association to "take immediate steps to ascertain through U. S. Senators James H. Duff and Edward Martin and Cong. Karl C. King . . . just what specifications the FHA approved for streets, curbing and sidewalks."

Landow also asked in his motion that the question of landscape and pipe specifications be looked into. He charged that the Levitt firm is using an inferior grade of steel pipe "in lieu of copper piping which is so widely advertised and is using a pressed sugar cane (pulp) pipe (Orangeburg) leading from the house instead of terra cotta tubing."

His motion was adopted by a large majority. Vice-president Gordon Bretschneider, sitting in for president Edward Hough, said that a committee would be named "as soon as possible" to investigate the charges.

Sloan was backed in his motion by Harry Kaplan, 21 Grove lane, who insisted, "we must take issue with the issues at hand, and let the chips fall where they may."

Hits Streets
Bernard Korson, chairman of the Health and Safety committee, charged that streets in Levittown "are bad to start off with. Why, I can name at least one place," he said. "Where the sewer is on the wrong end of the street, working against the law of gravity. I have but one question to ask," he said to Sloan, "how can we help you?"

Association member Joseph Hitov, of 13 Glenwood lane, said "the motion definitely has merit." Asked in what way he would require the support of the group, Sloan said that a petition with the names of five per cent of the voters of the township "is necessary to start impeachment proceedings."

Several members of an admitted anti-Sloan group went along with the proposals, and suggested that the time was "ripe for action."

"He has something there," one was heard to comment, regardless of what people think of the man, you must admit that he has a point."

Hitov interrupted the discussion and drew another burst of applause when he said "the time has passed for pussy-footing, now is the time to take action."

Sloan himself volunteered to serve on the investigating committee, and said action should be taken as quickly as possible.

"We pay our taxes and we want to know what goes on at these so-called secret meetings," he said.

Attending the meeting and introduced by Sloan were officers of civic organizations of Bristol township. Mrs. Betty Gough, of Bristol Township Civic Association; Francis Seader, Better Government League; and Alfred Flood and Roy Hansen, Fergusonville Community Association.

Sloan said each had assured him that "the organizations they represent are going to have meetings in the near future to look into the alleged secret meetings of the Bristol Township Commissioners, and will invite members of the Levittown Civic Association to be present."

At a rough estimate, there are 165 million workers in the world's manufacturing and handicrafts, of whom about 18 million are in the U. S. and Canada, reports a study to be issued by the Twentieth Century Fund.

street. Residents of Main street have complained that the rising creek waters flood their cellars since construction of Levittown was begun.

Bodine said a chemical test of the creek, made for the health board, showed pollution originating in the older portion of the borough, and entering from north of the railroad tracks. The test where Martins Creek crosses under the tracks showed 6100 total bacteria per m. l., Bodine said, which he added indicated pollution was present. Behind the school house, on Main street, he said, the test indicated 7,800 bacteria per m. l.

Points Out

The health board president pointed out that the borough made pollution results from creek waters flooding into cesspools and reverting back to the creek. He said the proposed new creek bed would be at a safe distance from the cesspools.

Bodine suggested that much of the rerouting be done by the Levitt firm, "as a gesture of good will" to Tullytown.

"I am quite sure that the State Department of Forests and Waters would give its assent, if for no other reason but to 'get out' from under what has been a very perplexing problem," he said.

Concerned

As president of the health board, Bodine said, he is concerned with the health aspects of the overflowing stream, adding that the question of damages is in the province of Borough Council.

"Regardless of how the pollution originates," Bodine said, "our immediate job is to correct the condition in the borough limits, and then seek a remedy for pollution lying elsewhere."

Bodine said Council president Nicholas Eberle has indicated "heartly approval" of the rerouting plan. Eberle yesterday described the section of the creek behind the Main street homes as a "bottle-neck."

Not Informed

John Collins, chairman of the Falls Township Authority, said yesterday he was unfamiliar with the protest situation except for what he had read about it in the newspapers, and said he had not yet been informed of the protest by any group or agency on an official basis.

There was some speculation though that the questions would come up for an airing at a meeting of the authority which Collins announced for 8 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 26 at the authority's office in the Fairless Hills shopping center.

Collins said Howard LeDan, consulting engineer on the project, would attend.

Although the authority does not hold regular monthly meetings, Collins said it does convene "periodically" especially when there is "some pending business."

this phase of his work. One of six children himself, he is father of seven, two girls and five boys, ranging in age from 16 to two. They are quite pleased that their father is now police chief. In fact, Walterick says, "All kids like cops. You drive along in the patrol car or walk along the street and they all wave and call 'hi'."

Walterick describes his main aim as police chief as, "making an efficient force, capable of handling any situation or emergency that may arise." He feels that in addition to managing and directing the activities of the police force he must "keep abreast of any development in the community and of new methods of fighting and preventing crime."

A Tullytown resident for 12 years, Walterick says, "I've seen more changes in the last year than in the other 11." He finds the rapid growth of Levittown one of the most amazing changes. He looks forward to working with Levittown people. "I find people of Levittown very co-operative. I look for them to take a big interest in community affairs," Walterick says. He will work with Levittown Guard Service in keeping law and order in Levittown.

Lands Commission

Walterick had a good word for Tullytown Borough Council and the Police Committee. He described them as 100 percent co-operative. He also speaks highly of the Civil Service Commission. "They are three very capable men and they have done a fine job in organizing the civil service set-up, from the very beginning," he said.

Walterick was born in Coatesville and moved to the Lower Bucks County area when he was 10. Before joining the police force he was employed by Paterson Parchment Paper Co. During World War II, Walterick served 17 months as an electrician's mate third class in the Navy.

In his spare time, the chief raises collies. At the present time he has 14 of his own dogs in his kennel plus six or eight boarders. He is looking forward to showing them in the spring.

charge of the foundation project, installed a special adjunct to the foundations to provide for any contingency whereby the springs might mount and overflow into the press pit. The additional water outlet can easily be emptied by pumping if necessary.

The Courier, a daily in operation for the past 40 years, purchased the modern press as evidence of its faith in the growing communities of Bristol and the entire Lower Bucks County.

For Half Century

The new equipment, plus many more already installed and more to be added as soon as possible, will give the readers of lower Bucks county the calibre of newspaper service to which they are entitled and is expected to take care of their needs for the next half-century.

Use Old Press

Until the new press is in operation, The Courier will continue to utilize its flat-bed eight-page press, which has rendered daily service for many decades. However, it necessitates two or more "runs" when the daily edition extends over eight pages, and this slows up deliveries. The speed of the new equipment will run-off three times as many pages in any edition of The Courier in faster time than the flat-bed press operated in printing an eight-page paper.

Levittowners Act

the FHA approved for streets, curbing and sidewalks in Levittown.

The motion instructs the Civic Association to "take immediate steps to ascertain through U. S. Senators James H. Duff and Edward Martin and Cong. Karl C. King . . . just what specifications the FHA approved for streets, curbing and sidewalks."

Landow also asked in his motion that the question of landscape and pipe specifications be looked into. He charged that the Levitt firm is using an inferior grade of steel pipe "in lieu of copper piping which is so widely advertised and is using a pressed sugar cane (pulp) pipe (Orangeburg) leading from the house instead of terra cotta tubing."

His motion was adopted by a large majority.

Vice-president Gordon Bretschneider, sitting in for president Edward Hough, said that a committee would be named "as soon as possible" to investigate the charges.

Sloan was backed in his motion by Harry Kaplan, 21 Grove Lane, who insisted, "we must take issue with the issues at hand, and let the chips fall where they may."

Hits Streets

Bernard Korson, chairman of the Health and Safety committee, charged that streets in Levittown "are bad to start off with. Why, I can name at least one place," he said. "Where the sewer is on the wrong end of the street, working against the law of gravity. I have but one question to ask," he said to Sloan, "how can we help you?"

Association member Joseph Hitov, of 18 Glenwood Lane, said "the motion definitely has merit." Asked in what way he would require the support of the group, Sloan said that a petition with the names of five per cent of the voters of the township "is necessary to start impeachment proceedings."

Several members of an admitted anti-Sloan group went along with the proposals, and suggested that the time was "ripe for action."

"He has something there," one was heard to comment, regardless of what people think of the man, you must admit that he has a point."

Hitov interrupted the discussion and drew another burst of applause when he said "the time has passed for pussy-footing, now is the time to take action."

Sloan himself volunteered to serve on the investigating committee, and said action should be taken as quickly as possible.

"We pay our taxes and we want to know what goes on at these so-called secret meetings," he said.

Attending the meeting and introduced by Sloan were officers of civic organizations of Bristol township, Mrs. Betty Gough, of Bristol Township Civic Association; Francis Seader, Better Government League; and Alfred Flood and Roy Hansen, Fergusonville Community Association.

IN THE LOCAL FIELD

Auto Boys Seek Tie For Softball Lead

The most important game of the Bristol Softball League season will be played this evening on Memorial Field as Auto Boys stacks up against Franklin A. C. Game will begin at 6 o'clock.

Auto Boys will be trying to get its sixth straight win and also tie the Franklin team for first place. Franklin has had the edge on first place since the start of the season and seemed to have top honors clinched until Jim Capecci and his lads began their drive for the pennant.

Should Auto Boys win this evening, another game will be played between the two teams to decide the season championship and which team should get the trophy which goes with this honor.

Wigham to Pitch
"Bill" Wigham, leading hurler of the circuit, is due to pitch for the third evening in succession. He will be opposed by Chick Stansky, speedball flash from Burlington. Wigham won his games on Monday and Tuesday evening, blanking Fifth Ward last evening and giving Kaisers two runs Monday evening. He has allowed seven hits in the two games and has pitched 13 scoreless innings.

Joe Frank will receive Wigham's slants with Chuck Klein on first; Joe Sallustio, second; Tony Cauti, short; and Ray Pierandozzi, third. The outfield will be composed of Fred Costantino, Horace Saxton, and Charlie Uhlund.

Barney Ludwig will catch for Franklin. Bob Lattanzi will be at the initial sack and Sonny Field at second. Toby Oriola will cover short with Tony Palumbo at the hot corner. The outer-garden will be coveyed by Bert Barbetta, Fred Clotti, and Joe Cialella.

Beat Fifth Ward
Auto Boys moved to within one game of first place in the Bristol Softball League by winning over Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 4-0, last evening on Memorial Field. The triumph raised the current winning streak of the Mill Street aggregation to five.

Again it was the mighty arm of "Bill" Wigham that paved the way to the Auto Boys win. Wigham in issuing his set of goose-eggs held the Warders to but one hit, a double by Joe Pica in the second. Wigham fanned eight and walked two. Not one Fifth Ward runner got beyond second base. From the second until the seventh, Wigham retired 13 batters in order. He walked Pica with two down in the seventh but the runner went out when trapped between first and second.

Stanley Koreyva was the losing moundsman. Koreyva was "nicked" for eight blows, many of which were popped over the infield. Wigham had a double and triple to his credit while Charlie Uhlund had a pair of two-baggers. Joe Franks hit two singles.

Uhlund started the scoring in the third was a double. He advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on another in a very close play at the plate.

Auto Boys counted twice in the fourth. Tony Cauti walked and scampered to the plate on Wigham's three-bagger. Chuck Klein grounded out but Frank's hit dropped in front of Angelo Cordisco for a single, scoring Wigham.

In the last inning, Uhlund again rapped a double. Saxton struck out. Fred Costantino fled to left. Uhlund faked a bid for third and Joe Stallone threw to second. The throw got away from DeLisa and enabled Uhlund to cross.

Twin Bill Headed By 'Pony Express'

A motion picture that charges to its stirring climax with the sharp rhythmic beat of horses' hoofs is the new color outdoor adventure drama, "Pony Express," which is one of two features opening Friday at the Roosevelt Drive-In Theatre. Filmed on a massive scale, the action-packed picture relates how swift mounted couriers carrying the mail defied natural obstacles, hostile Indians and nefarious white men, linking the nation from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Calif., to bring the Atlantic seaboard and the Pacific coast 10 days nearer to each other.

The second feature is "Invaders from Mars," color spectacle which will figuratively send you out of this world.

Auto Boys Seek Tie For Softball Lead

The most important game of the Bristol Softball League season will be played this evening on Memorial Field as Auto Boys stacks up against Franklin A. C. Game will begin at 6 o'clock.

Auto Boys will be trying to get its sixth straight win and also tie the Franklin team for first place. Franklin has had the edge on first place since the start of the season and seemed to have top honors clinched until Jim Capecci and his lads began their drive for the pennant.

Should Auto Boys win this evening, another game will be played between the two teams to decide the season championship and which team should get the trophy which goes with this honor.

Wigham to Pitch
"Bill" Wigham, leading hurler of the circuit, is due to pitch for the third evening in succession. He will be opposed by Chick Stansky, speed-ball flash from Burlington. Wigham won his games on Monday and Tuesday evening, blanking Fifth Ward last evening and giving Katsers two runs Monday evening. He has allowed seven hits in the two games and has pitched 13 scoreless innings.

Joe Frank will receive Wigham's slants with Chuck Klein on first; Joe Sallustio, second; Tony Cauti, short; and Ray Pierandozzi, third. The outfield will be composed of Fred Constantino, Horace Saxton, and Charlie Uhlend.

Barney Ludwig will catch for Franklin. Bob Lattanzi will be at the initial sack and Sonny Field at second. Tony Oriola will cover short with Tony Palumbo at the hot corner. The outer-garden will be coveyed by Bert Barbetta, Fred Clotti, and Joe Cialella.

Beat Fifth Ward
Auto Boys moved to within one game of first place in the Bristol Softball League by winning over Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 4-0, last evening on Memorial Field. The triumph raised the current winning streak of the Mill Street aggregation to five.

Again it was the mighty arm of "Bill" Wigham that paved the way to the Auto Boys win. Wigham in issuing his set of goose-eggs held the Warders to but one hit, a double by Joe Pica in the second. Wigham fanned eight and walked two. Not one Fifth Ward runner got beyond second base. From the second until the seventh, Wigham retired 13 batters in order. He walked Pica with two down in the seventh but the runner went out when trapped between first and second.

Stanley Koreyva was the losing moundsman. Koreyva was "nicked" for eight blows, many of which were popped over the infield. Wigham had a double and triple to his credit while Charlie Uhlend had a pair of two-baggers. Joe Franks hit two singles.

Uhlend started the scoring in the third was a double. He advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on another in a very close play at the plate.

Auto Boys counted twice in the fourth. Tony Cauti walked and scampered to the plate on Wigham's three-bagger. Chuck Klein grounded out but Frank's hit dropped in front of Angelo Cordisco for a single, scoring Wigham.

In the last inning, Uhlend again rapped a double. Saxton struck out. Fred Constantino fled to left. Uhlend faked a bid for third and Joe Stallone threw to second. The throw got away from DeLisa and enabled Uhlend to cross.

Twin Bill Headed By 'Pony Express'

A motion picture that charges to its stirring climax with the sharp rhythmic beat of horses' hoofs is the new color outdoor adventure drama, "Pony Express," which is one of two features opening Friday at the Roosevelt Drive-In Theatre. Filmed on a massive scale, the action-packed picture relates how swift mounted couriers carrying the mail defied natural obstacles, hostile Indians and nefarious white men, linking the nation from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Calif., to bring the Atlantic seaboard and the Pacific coast 10 days nearer to each other.

The second feature is "Invaders from Mars," color spectacle which will figuratively send you out of this world.

Helping the Preschool Child Get a Good Start in Reading

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

IF you have a child who will be entering the first grade in September, you probably have been reading to him for several years. He began to listen to you read while he looked at the pictures you read about. What he saw he gradually connected with what he heard, and while he listened, the pictures he was looking at took on richer meaning for him.

He grew in habits of concentration. He gradually looked and listened longer and longer for continuous periods. By now he usually wants you to read more often and for longer stretches than you care or have the time to do. This growing interest of his in listening and connecting what you read with the book from which the rhyme or story comes, is powerful for arousing in him a wish to read for himself.

Valuable in Class

His frequent practice at listening will have proved valuable to him as the teacher explains things and gives him and his classmates directions. My bulletin, "Books from Which to Read to the Baby and Young Child" (which may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this newspaper) gives seventeen reasons for reading to the young child.

It's fine if this child has had years of pleasure at drawing, painting, cutting, pasting and making simple things for fun with simple tools. In the first grade he will often have occasion to do likewise. From these experiences he becomes familiar with relative shapes and sizes, very useful in helping him make out words and letters on the printed page.

Obviously, the more self-reliant he is, the better he will learn at school. If at home he usually has been helped to do what he could do himself, he will expect such help from the teacher. And if he has not learned to share pleasures with other children, he won't easily gain in learning to read while other children read.

Ways to Help

As soon as your child takes the early steps at school in learning to read, you can help him by finding pages in books and children's magazines of pictures of familiar objects and activities with the appropriate words, phrases and sentences under each picture. Even to make large placards, with a word on each placard, hung or laid on the appropriate object about the house, can be useful for him, if you encourage him to connect the word and object.

Similarly, you can help him make a scrapbook from pictures of familiar objects, you printing the name of each object beneath its picture. A number of mothers have written me of their successes from this procedure.

Widows Marry After Midlife

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Widows predominate among the women marrying past midlife, according to a study just released by the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Using data from 14 widely separated states, the report shows that in 1950 widows made up one quarter of all brides at ages 40 to 44, one half of the brides at ages 50 to 54, and more than four fifths of those at ages 65 and over.

Surveying the total marriage picture, the statisticians point out that marriages at the later ages make up only a small fraction of the total. Widows and widowers accounted for only 6 percent of the brides and grooms in the 14 states.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God. — Jn. 1:1.

The Greeks called Wisdom the Word. God then is incarnate Wisdom. Some imagine this world was started by a silly accident, and sustained by perpetual motion. This view is supported by no evidence. It was created by wisdom and sustained by wisdom. It is going somewhere.

ON OTHER FOOT

T. Coleman Andrews, new Internal Revenue Commissioner, is proving a hunch that a number of federal taxes go unpaid because citizens, particularly businessmen, are unaware of them. A survey so far conducted in four states shows that 14 per cent of the individuals questioned failed to file one or more of the 24 different kinds of federal tax forms having to do with business last year because they didn't know about them.

Mr. Anderson perhaps could save himself some money by stopping his survey right here. Existence of two dozen forms speaks a complexity of the tax collecting machinery which itself should be investigated. Nor are mere numbers the only hazard.

The incomprehensibility of many of the forms makes them a real harassment to the small businessman whose receipts do not permit extensive reliance on tax experts.

Taxable Items Listed For State Sales Tax

The State Revenue Department has made public a list of items subject to the state sales tax, effective Sept. 1.

Taxable items were announced yesterday as follows:

Food — animal foods, candied, crystallized or glazed fruits, candy, chewing gum, chocolate, chocolate coated nuts, cod liver oil, confectionary, including all preparations of fruits, nuts, popcorn, cereals or marshmallows in combination with chocolate, honey or other preparations; dietary supplements in liquid, powdered, granular, pellet, lozenge, pill or other form; coloring extracts, halibut liver oil, malt and malt extracts, candy coated nuts, soda water, or any non-alcoholic beverage containing carbonated water, mineral, bottled or carbonated water.

Clothing — Aprons, bathing caps, combs, garters, hair fittings, ornaments, hair nets, handkerchiefs, masquerade and theatrical costumes, neckties, pocketbooks, purses and wallets, rubber gloves, sewing notions and materials, buttons, dress shields, needles, thread, patterns, piece goods, zippers, shirt studs, pins, clips, cufflinks, bracelets, earrings and other articles not permanently attached to a particular piece of wearing apparel.

Also, shoes designed for a particular sport, sporting equipment and accessories.

Industry — Materials and supplies for consumption in administration departments or the performance of functions not part of the production process, including janitor, cleaning and building maintenance supplies, sale of gas, coal, coke, fuel oil, chemicals and steam consumed primarily for heating, cooling or air conditioning plant facilities, except when consumed as part of the manufacturing process.

Agriculture — Sales to farmers of all tangible personal property for personal use or consumption, sales of seeds and fertilizers for use on a golf course, home lawn or garden, or non-commercial garden, plants and seedlings for orchards, having a useful life of more than one year and on which depreciation is allowed for Federal income tax purposes.

Medicines — Non-prescription medicine and drugs, cotton gauze, adhesive tape, bandages and other dressings, antiseptics, splints, splint materials, plaster cast materials and similar items, even if purchased by a physician or hospital, elastic supports and supports of straps, laces, pads, etc.

Vehicles — Motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers, retail sales by manufacturers, wholesalers, processors and jobbers, even though such sales are infrequent and only comprise an insignificant fraction of their total business, sales of repossessed fixtures or other property by a finance company, sales of by-products, waste and scrap.

Flowers — Sale and delivery of flowers in Pennsylvania by telegraphic order within the State and received from points outside the Commonwealth. Also merchandise purchased in other States for use in Pennsylvania.

Contracts — Sales of tangible property to a building, road, bridge or other structural contractor after Sept. 1; contracts for future sale to goods where the delivery is incomplete after Sept. 1.

Repairs — Parts furnished for autos, airplanes, bicycles, machinery, refrigerators, farm implements, musical instruments, radios, boats and furniture must be paid by the owner only if the repairman itemize separately. If the items are not listed separately, the repairman becomes subject to payment of the entire tax as a consumer.

Funerals — All tangible property furnished in connection with the rendering of a service. If the tangible property furnished is segregated in the billing, the tax is paid only on those items provided.

When a lump sum is charged for a funeral, it is assumed that 50 percent is the charge for tangible property. The tax must be collected in full on the total charge for vaults and other items not included in the lump sum charge.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Granting that all intentions are plausibly sincere, the Eisenhower administration nevertheless is showing certain spots that bode ill for itself, the republican party, and the country.

It was more than 9 months ago that the American voters pronounced a record breaking edict that they would accept no more government of the brand they had been getting, and wanted a house-cleaning. Such a house-cleaning had been promised. It has not been delivered, and as of the present, the prospects seem to grow dimmer rather than to improve.

The disease is amateuritis. GOP chairman Leonard Hall, a practical and highly experienced politician, with frustration supreme, battles it on all sides. He knows that the republican campaign of last year was based on three major issues: waste and overspending; disloyalty and corruption; a state department and foreign policy that were as phony as they were ineffective.

He knows also that failure to correct those flaws and thus keep faith with the average American who believes in clean government, may well cost the republicans the control of both house and senate in the elections of next year. Thus far, however, there has been little he could accomplish.

New faces—a few of them—have been brought in at top levels. They are nice people. Too nice. They are, for the most part, successful and competent industrial and business executives, pitifully naive to the problems of government or the ways of the closed corporation of bureaucracy which has entrenched itself over 20 years past.

Their psychological approach is that of stepping into a new job, as they might be called to take over the presidency of an established steel company. Their wish is to learn the job, fit into it as painlessly and efficiently as possible.

Borough Payroll Discovered Below Nation's Average

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — It costs residents of Bristol less than it does people in most other cities for the labor and services necessary to operate the municipal government.

This fact is brought out by the United States Census Bureau on the basis of data it gathered from the nation's cities with populations of 10,000 and over.

The Bristol payroll for the month of October, 1952, which was used as the test month in the study, shows a cost of $15,500 for municipal employees, exclusive of teachers and other school workers.

This represented an outlay equal to $1.29 for each resident of the city. It was lower than the per capita cost in the other cities of meeting non-school payrolls, $3.45 a month. It was, also, under costs in Bristol's size group, 10,000 to 25,000 population, which were $2.03 per capita.

There were fewer people on the Bristol payroll during the test month, considering the local population, than there were in most of the cities. The total was 84, of and commit as few boners as possible in the transition.

Transition is not the answer. The need is for overhaul on a drastic and decisive scale.

There are exceptions. Arthur Summerfield, himself a realistic political adult, no sooner had taken his seat in the big, walnut-paneled PMG office than he began his clean-out of policy level personnel. He was told that civil service laws prevented it.

He found, however, that the prevention was all a matter of interpretation—by a chief counsel who had been part of the Truman administration. Summerfield reinterpreted.

The Wilson-Keyes team in the Defense Department took over with a similar attitude, as did Ezra Taft Benson in agriculture.

But they are the exceptions. Through most of the rest of the kaleidoscope of government, polite and cultured gentlemen have accepted what has been handed to them. The administrative mismanagement, which the public intended to vote out of control last November, still reposes snugly in the hands of the same individuals who created it. The misformulation and misinterpretation of policy still is in the same hands that misformulated and misinterpreted in the past.

In short, the present is more of the past, with a different wrapping. Except that those of the bureaucratic aristocracy who have succeeded in taking the new leadership into camp have grown the more swaggering and arrogant in the experience. They boasted lately that they could resist, successfully, all efforts by the new administration to dislodge them; but it was only a boast. Now they have proved it.

The defense by the administration leaders is that they themselves are inexperienced in these problems, which is an accurate statement. But it is no defense. Instead, it's an admission.

And the public, which has promised a cleanout it is not getting, is unlikely to accept it, for long, as a substitute for action. Nor does the high command of the Democratic party, also looking to next year, intend to let the public for- get.

which 62 were on permanent full-time and 22 on temporary or part-time status.

This was equivalent to 6.5 employed for each 1000 residents. It was less than the general average, 12.3 per 1000 people, and less than the rate of municipal employment among cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 class, where 9.3 employees per 1000 were recorded.

The pay scale for these non-school employees in Bristol averaged $185 a month. Nationally, among the 1233 cities surveyed, the rate was $281 a month. In the 10,000 to 25,000 group it was $220.

City governments had a record number of employees and bigger payrolls in October than ever before, states the Census Bureau. Of the total number, 1,141,000, or 85 per cent, were full-time personnel and the remaining 200,000 on a part-time basis. The latter were chiefly volunteer firemen and elected officials of small cities, who ordinarily receive only nominal pay.

Your Birthday by STELLA

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19 — Born today, you have good business judgment and your major interests are cultural and intellectual. You know the worth of taking a positive attitude toward things and have the ability to oversee the smallest detail in a large project. Although yours may not be an easy life — since the stars decree a certain amount of opposition — you should be able to win in the long run and reach a fairly early success.

Your life runs in cycles of good and bad fortune. Tuesday is usually one of your good days; February, a fortunate month to begin a new enterprise.

You have an aloof and haughty attitude and do not always make friends as quickly as you should. This "stand-offishness" is likely to make it difficult for you to get ahead as fast as you might wish. Develop the social side of your nature more. Be a little more frank and open so that there will be a better understanding between you and your associates.

Rather inclined to take offense too easily, you often imagine a slight when none is intended. You are quick-tempered, yourself, and are very apt to say a thing in anger which you will soon regret. Best to count 10 before answering anyone when angry. In the long run, you will have less to regret.

You are emotional and sympathetic. Your love will be a deep and abiding one and your home should be harmonious and happy. You demand perfection from the one you love, but you will give great devotion in return. Fond of the beautiful things in life, your home will be well furnished and well managed. You women make fine homemakers and mothers. You are excellent hostesses and your home is the center of your life.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Trying to rush things at the last moment will only cause confusion and error. Plan ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Combine romance and social affairs successfully with business matters, for best results.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — If your current plans go astray, don't give in too easily. Make new plans and stick to them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) —

Try to get as much rest and mental relaxation as you possibly can during the balance of this summer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) — Activate as many of your plans and new ideas as you can while aspects are in your favor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20) — This evening should bring a happy meeting with close friends at your home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Exert extreme caution in all activities to avoid a major error due to haste or carelessness.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Aspects are excellent for you. Begin any project you wish. Anticipate success.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — A business or financial tangle may cause difficulties between you and a friend, unless straightened out. TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — If you need new clothes, this should be a good day to find excellent bargains. Buy now.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — If asked to contribute to your community chest or to give your services for charity, do so graciously.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Haste can only make waste today. Take one thing at a time, slowly and carefully, to avoid error.

State To Observe Pennsylvania Week Oct. 12 to 18

HARRISBURG — "Pennsylvania Week, which has come to mean so much in the industrial life of the Commonwealth, will be observed this year October 12 through 18," Governor John S. Fine announces.

"Conduct of the observance will be left to the communities, State-wide organizations, chambers of commerce, and other agencies which have participated in previous observances.

"For seven years the pattern for the observance of Pennsylvania Week stemmed from the State Department of Commerce. It is felt now that direction of the program should be undertaken by the communities, organizations, and individuals who have become so well acquainted with the purposes of Pennsylvania Week and who have made each succeeding year's observance more important than the preceding ones.

"This would carry forward the purposes of the Week this year and make it truly a 'grass roots' affair presented entirely through the ingenuity, the pride, and the ambitions of the various communities and their citizens.

"Last year more than 6,000 volunteer workers served in the Pennsylvania Week organization. They can very well, in their communities and in State-wide organizations, furnish the leadership that will be required for the observance in all parts of Pennsylvania.

"I earnestly urge that this notable annual observance be carried forward with the same enthusiasm which has marked all previous observances."

Multiple-Death Crashes Claimed 1100 U.S. Lives

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Catastrophic accidents — those killing five or more persons — took about 1,100 lives in the United States during the first half of this year, one fifth more than in the like period of last year, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians report.

Unusually heavy loss of life in tornadoes caused a substantial part of the increase. Nine such storms — a record number for the first six months of a year — were responsible for about 400 deaths, more than one third of the half-year total.

The three tornadoes most costly in loss of life were the one that struck Waco, Texas, on May 11th, taking 113 lives; the series of tornadoes in Michigan and Ohio on June 8th which killed 141 persons; and the one that slashed through Worcester County, Mass., on the following day and fatally injured 85 people.

Your life runs in cycles of good and bad fortune. Tuesday is usually one of your good days; February, a fortunate month to begin a new enterprise.

You have an aloof and haughty attitude and do not always make friends as quickly as you should. This "stand-offishness" is likely to make it difficult for you to get ahead as fast as you might wish. Develop the social side of your nature more. Be a little more frank and open so that there will be a better understanding between you and your associates.

Rather inclined to take offense too easily, you often imagine a slight when none is intended. You are quick-tempered, yourself, and are very apt to say a thing in anger which you will soon regret. Best to count 10 before answering anyone when angry. In the long run, you will have less to regret.

You are emotional and sympathetic. Your love will be a deep and abiding one and your home should be harmonious and happy. You demand perfection from the one you love, but you will give great devotion in return. Fond of the beautiful things in life, your home will be well furnished and well managed. You women make fine homemakers and mothers. You are excellent hostesses and your home is the center of your life.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Trying to rush things at the last moment will only cause confusion and error. Plan ahead.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Combine romance and social affairs successfully with business matters, for best results.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — If your current plans go astray, don't give in too easily. Make new plans and stick to them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) —

Try to get as much rest and mental relaxation as you possibly can during the balance of this summer.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) — Activate as many of your plans and new ideas as you can while aspects are in your favor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20) — This evening should bring a happy meeting with close friends at your home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Exert extreme caution in all activities to avoid a major error due to haste or carelessness.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — Aspects are excellent for you. Begin any project you wish. Anticipate success.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — A business or financial tangle may cause difficulties between you and a friend, unless straightened out. TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — If you need new clothes, this should be a good day to find excellent bargains. Buy now.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — If asked to contribute to your community chest or to give your services for charity, do so graciously.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Haste can only make waste today. Take one thing at a time, slowly and carefully, to avoid error.

State To Observe Pennsylvania Week Oct. 12 to 18

HARRISBURG — "Pennsylvania Week, which has come to mean so much in the industrial life of the Commonwealth, will be observed this year October 12 through 18," Governor John S. Fine announces. "Conduct of the observance will be left to the communities, State-wide organizations, chambers of commerce, and other agencies which have participated in previous observances."

"For seven years the pattern for the observance of Pennsylvania Week stemmed from the State Department of Commerce. It is felt now that direction of the program should be undertaken by the communities, organizations, and individuals who have become so well acquainted with the purposes of Pennsylvania Week and who have made each succeeding year's observance more important than the preceding ones."

"This would carry forward the purposes of the Week this year and make it truly a 'grass roots' affair presented entirely through the ingenuity, the pride, and the ambitions of the various communities and their citizens."

"Last year more than 6,000 volunteer workers served in the Pennsylvania Week organization. They can very well, in their communities and in State-wide organizations, furnish the leadership that will be required for the observance in all parts of Pennsylvania."

"I earnestly urge that this notable annual observance be carried forward with the same enthusiasm which has marked all previous observances."

Multiple-Death Crashes Claimed 1100 U.S. Lives

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Catastrophic accidents — those killing five or more persons — took about 1,100 lives in the United States during the first half of this year, one fifth more than in the like period of last year, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians report.

Unusually heavy loss of life in tornadoes caused a substantial part of the increase. Nine such storms — a record number for the first six months of a year — were responsible for about 400 deaths, more than one third of the half-year total.

The three tornadoes most costly in loss of life were the one that struck Waco, Texas, on May 11th, taking 113 lives; the series of tornadoes in Michigan and Ohio on June 8th which killed 141 persons; and the one that slashed through Worcester County, Mass., on the following day and fatally injured 85 people.

Beauty Care in the Summer

Sun protection includes wearing a brimmed hat to keep hair from drying out and applying a lotion so skin won't burn.

By HELEN FOLLETT

ARE you so lazy that you will not do what you should to protect your hair, your hands and your complexion? If so, you are one of millions. There are many like you, girls who collect summer beauty worries that might have been avoided.

It isn't wise to be exposed to strong sunlight for hours at a time. The result may be dizziness, even heat prostration.

A Hat Helps

The first requirement is a brimmed hat. It will protect your hair as well as your complexion. The color of hair can be changed by burning rays, leaving horrid streaks that cannot be removed by any beauty treatment. During the summer, it is wise to put an oily dressing on your tresses, especially if the growth is inclined to be dry.

Your hat will also protect your complexion. Excessive tanning makes skin look like leather. The texture grows coarse.

Gardening Gloves

Unless you wear gloves when you work in the garden, your hands will take terrific punishment. Contact with dirt is ruinous to the flesh and also to the fingernails. Perhaps you fancy working gloves make for awkward hand movements. What of it? You don't want your hands to look dreadful when you sit in at the bridge game, do you?

When washing hands, use a bland soap. Fluff up a rich lather. Rub the lather into the palms of your hands and add a little corn meal. It will take the dark lines out of your knuckles. The starch content is soothing and softening. You will be surprised how fresh your mitts will look after this treatment. Rinse, dry and friction in a cream, wringing your hands together to distribute it well.
